

Accu-Drain<sup>2</sup>

The ACD2 is the most recent addition to ASP's Accu-Drain Product Line. This new electric no-loss drain was designed to provide the same reliability as our current ACDs but in a smaller footprint. It still has ASP's signature translucent vessel for a fast and simple operational check, a robust non-clogging Posi-Valve that eliminates the need for additional strainers, and for its size has a large discharge capacity of 1.5 oz.

The ACD2 is ASP's first no loss electric drain that is light enough to be suspended from pre-filters, after-filters, or other system equipment. It is also ideal for applications where there is limited space in the system for the drain. This drain rounds out our Electric Zero Loss drain offerings so customers can use our dependable drains on all different size systems and types of equipment.
